

ABSTRACT

The Use of Vitamin B₆ to Mitigate Visual Field
Defects Associated With The Use of GABAergic Drugs in Mammals

The invention provides a method for treating visual field defects in a mammal in need thereof by administering an effective amount of vitamin B6 to the mammal. Novel compositions containing a GABAergic drug and vitamin B6 are also provided.

BEST AVAILABLE COPY